starts on a clean slate and is not flung with any surprise claims. If that is permitted, the very calculations on the basis of which the resolution applicant submits its plans, would go haywire and the plan would be unworkable. (ii) We have no hesitation to say, that the word "other stakeholders" would squarely cover the Central Government, any State Government or any local authorities. The legislature, noticing that on account of obvious omission, certain tax authorities were not abiding by the mandate of I&B Code and continuing with the proceedings, has brought out the 2019 amendment so as to cure the said mischief... 17. In view of the above, all past claims would stand extinguished. However, as far as various statutory rights vested with the Corporate Debtor in form of various licenses, leases, and others alike matter, we make it clear that the successful resolution applicant has to approach the concerned statutory authority for those concessions and those authorities will consider the same as per their established procedure." Thus, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 - Section 238 thereof stipulating that provisions of aforesaid Code have overriding effect on any other law for time being in force - Non obstante clause in Section 238 ibid and word 'shall' used in Section 31(1) ibid makes it abundantly clear that a resolution plan approved by committee of creditors and further approved by National Company Law Tribunal would be binding on all creditors including Central Government, any State Government or any local authority to whom a debt in respect of payment of dues arising under any law for time being in force. Accordingly, no liability though exists on the part of the company, the demand has been created in Electronic Liability Register and hence the same has been shown as contingent liability.
